

Eisenhower Tax Program Offers No Hope For Early Cuts

Nation Must Stay Strong, Ike Insists

By Douglas B. Cornell
Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower submitted to the nation last night a five-point tax program that offered no immediate reductions in what he called this "age of danger."
Speaking by radio on "an issue affecting all our lives," Eisenhower told the people "we must be strong—and we must stay strong" in the face of perils brought on by the cold calculation of Soviet leaders.
His tax plan supported that idea by calling for continuation of present income and corporation taxes at least for the time being. It did propose that a scheduled boost in social security taxes, which would take effect Jan. 1, be put off.
It was Eisenhower's first formal speech direct to the nation by radio. And he made advance summaries of it for use later by television and newsmen.

What it amounted to was an attempt to spell out for the people in ABC terms why he believes taxes must remain high even though his administration has promised economy.
"We all know something," Eisenhower said, "of the long record of deliberately planned Communist aggression. There has been, to this moment, no reason to believe that Soviet policy has changed its frequently announced hope and purpose—the destruction of freedom everywhere."
"There is, therefore, no reason for the free nations to alter their course: To hope and work for the best, to arm and be ready for the worst."

He went on to explain that the Soviet threat is more than a mere military threat—Communist guns... have been "aiming at an economic target—no less than a military target."
Defense of the nation, the President said, must be borne for a long, indefinite time. He said it cannot "consist of sudden, blind responses to a series of fire alarm emergencies."

In this "age of peril," he said this is the tax program he is recommending to Congress:
1. The present excise profits tax on corporations, now scheduled to end June 30, should be extended for six months. Eisenhower estimated this will bring in a revenue of 800 million dollars.

2. The 5 per cent reduction—from 52 to 57 per cent—in the regular corporate income tax, now set for next April, should be repealed. Keeping the tax, the President estimated, will bring in two billion dollars a year.

3. A cut in excise taxes scheduled for April 1 would be postponed until after he has made specific recommendations to Congress next January for a sounder excise tax system.

4. A boost in the old age security tax from 1½ to 2 per cent on both employees and employers, scheduled for next Jan. 1, should be postponed. Eisenhower said the old age and survivors trust fund now holds 18 billion dollars and present tax rates are bringing in receipts in excess of expenditures.

"This," the President said, "will be a worthwhile saving to wage-earners, and, in my judgment, a simple justice to them."
Five—A 10 per cent reduction in individual income taxes, now set for Jan. 1, should go through—but no earlier than that.

Eisenhower said he doesn't believe "the American people think that earlier reduction would be prudent," as their communications to him show they want "our nation secure and our dollar sound."

To advance the date by six months, as some members of Congress are urging, would cost 1½ billion dollars in revenue, the President said.

Summing up his ideas on taxes, Eisenhower told the people:
"We believe that—for the long term—present taxes are too high. We think they are becoming a real threat to individual initiative."

"We believe, at the same time, that no citizen, once satisfied that his government is operating with honesty and economy and with planning foresight—wants any tax savings at the price of essential national security."

Blonde Sought As Kidnaper

New York (AP) — A peroxide blonde was sought in 13 states yesterday as the possible kidnaper of two tiny Washington tots—one of whom turned up as a week-end wanderer in Central Park.
The identification of the lost child as two-year-old Clifton Eugene Bradford sent 25 detectives prowling rooming houses and hotels in the park area. They figured their quarry might be living in the section with Clifton's baby sister, Diane, one year old.
Clifton and Diane disappeared from their Washington home last Friday after their father left them in the care of the blonde, whom he met in a restaurant.
Clifton was found Sunday, tagged out in a cowboy suit. He went unidentified for 24 hours.

Major Stress Placed On Air Defense

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower asserted last night that his military program is aimed at "a steady growth in the size and efficiency of the air defense."

"We are putting major emphasis on air power," Eisenhower said in his nationwide broadcast. "Our revised budget will provide the Air Force with more than 4 per cent of all defense funds programmed for 1954."

The President threw these statements into his address in an apparent counter-attack against congressional critics who have assailed his announced intention to whack five billion dollars from Air Force funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Earlier yesterday, four leading Eisenhower lieutenants voiced the claim that the administration is going to bring about greater air security by spending less money than proposed by former President Harry S. Truman.

Eisenhower and his aides hit out at those who defended Truman's plan to build the Air Force up to 143 combat wings by the middle of 1955. Eisenhower's program would bring 120 wings by that same date.

The strength of a wing varies and includes anything from 30 heavy bombers to 75 fighters.

Hill, Bunnell, Miller Win Nominations

East Stroudsburg's Democratic voters nominated two incumbent school directors—Jacob M. Hill and James S. Bunnell—and added the name of David L. Miller, a sales manager, to the trio which will go before the voters in November.

Defeated in the four-way race for three nominations was Elwood LeBar with 102 Democratic votes. Hill scored 241, Bunnell 232 and Miller 236.

Unopposed for the Republican nomination for school director in East Stroudsburg were Dr. M. J. Leitner, Hanford L. Cleveland and Dr. Evan C. Reese.

Harold A. Wiggins, president of East Stroudsburg council, again won both Republican and Democratic nominations. Wiggins is secretary of the Republican County Committee.

Withdrawal Urged

Washington (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) introduced a resolution yesterday recommending U. S. withdrawal from the United Nations if Communist China is admitted to U. N. membership.

For The Record

—by Stanley High

EISENHOWER'S BASIC BELIEFS
(A senior editor of the Reader's Digest, Mr. High was on President Eisenhower's staff during the 1952 campaign. He has written numerous books.)

As of the moment, and on the surface, the 1954 elections seem to stir less and less fear among Congressional Democrats and more and more among Republicans.

However, the G. O. P. alarm at the prospect of losing Congressional control is not noticeable at the White House.

This is not because President Eisenhower is indifferent to party success or uninformed of the importance of keeping a Congressional majority or unaware how large a hurdle a 1954 defeat would plant in front of 1956.

The President's attitude would spring, rather, from his belief that these first two years are a trial run. They will test how much his administration, in the day-to-day transactions of government, is fit to govern.

But, more importantly, they will test how much, in redirecting the aims and practices of government, the American people and the Republican party—as the people's current executives—mean business.

The President believes the people do mean business. He hopes the same for the Republican party.

Whether that confidence is well placed is, as yet, unanswered. The answer, in fact, is not likely to be forthcoming until the process of redirecting begins to hurt—as, before long, with some groups and blocs, it is bound to.

The trouble is that, on a lot of people, particularly politicians, the truth hasn't really dawned that, having voted for a change in Washington, we are getting a change. It hasn't dawned on them that President Eisenhower is no hereditary successor to President Roosevelt and Truman, but something new in the Presidential line; that it's not a new front for the old order that is going up.

U. N. Command Delays Talks Until Monday

Tokyo (AP) — The United Nations Command yesterday delayed until Monday a critical meeting of armistice negotiators, gaining time to revise a truce plan which may contain a time limit for Communist acceptance.

Details of the Allied plan were secret but informal sources indicated it may involve spot release of North Korean prisoners who refuse repatriation to Communist rule if negotiations break down.

Authoritative sources at U. N. headquarters in New York said the U. S. has decided to modify truce proposals but the precise changes have not been worked out.

The truce talks had been scheduled to resume today after a three-day recess for "administrative" reasons, but the U. N. Command asked for a six-day extension in a meeting of liaison officers at Panmunjom.

The U. N. Command said it "desired more time to review past efforts to settle the prisoner of war question and to consider completely the present position of both sides with regard to this important issue."

The Communists agreed to the extension but a communiqué gruffed: "This side considers that the negotiations should not be dragged out."

In New York, U. N. sources said that the modified plan may permit final disposition of Red prisoners by a political conference, but the U. S. will insist that a definite time limit be placed on the length of the conference.

In Oslo, Norway, a joint communiqué from Sweden, Denmark, Norway, and Iceland, expressed hope that a Korean truce could be worked out in line with an Indian resolution adopted by the U. N. last December. Like the current Red plan, the Indian resolution also provided that a political conference decide final disposition of the balking prisoners.

Since Sunday Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., senior Allied negotiator, has been meeting in secret discussions here at the headquarters of Gen. Mark Clark, supreme U. N. commander in the Far East.

Clark's political adviser, Robert Murphy, has taken part in the talks and it was presumed that close contact was maintained with Washington.

A reliable source said last night the U. N. Command is considering turning loose the 34,000 North Korean anti-Communist prisoners. The Tokyo source said a precedent for this was set by the Communists themselves early in the war when they said they released 50,000 Allied prisoners.

Iran Orders Expulsion Of U. S. Newsman

Tehran, Iran (AP) — The Iranian government yesterday ordered the expulsion of Marc Purdie, Associated Press correspondent, for sending abroad what it called "false and provocative news against the interests of Iran."

Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi announced at a news conference that Purdie must leave Iran within three days.

Asked what, specifically, Purdie had reported that was "false and provocative," Fatemi said it was general and gave no details.

Four hours later two detectives, who said they had not been told the reason for the expulsion order, called at the AP office and told Purdie to report to police headquarters this morning. They said he would then be given an explanation and his exit visa.

Purdie, 39, a native of Evansville, Ind., was not at the news conference. He was covering a meeting of the lower house of the Iranian Parliament, where leading opposition deputies launched three broadside attacks on Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

Senate Extends Defense Act But Refuses Standby Powers

Washington, (AP) — The Senate voted yesterday to extend the Defense Production Act for two years in modified form, but it refused to give President Eisenhower broad powers to freeze wages, prices and rents in a national emergency.

The bill now goes to the House for action. Senate passage was on a voice vote.

Before approving the new controls bill, the Senate voted 45 to 41 to amend it so that the President's authority to freeze basic elements of the nation's economy for 90 days in the event of an emergency would be limited to an actual declaration of war or after a concurrent resolution by Congress.

Since only Congress may declare war, the rollback vote meant that the President could not act without the consent of Congress.

Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said the amendment left the President with "no authority whatsoever" to act in a crisis.

And Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) said the whole series of amendments attached to the bill had "completely emasculated" it. As a result, he said, he had very little interest in whether Congress passed it or not.

Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said the amendment left the President with "no authority whatsoever" to act in a crisis.

And Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) said the whole series of amendments attached to the bill had "completely emasculated" it. As a result, he said, he had very little interest in whether Congress passed it or not.

By a vote of 48 to 40, the Senate approved a last-minute amendment to deny the President authority, once he clamped on a freeze, to make exemptions or adjustments. Opponents of the amendment protested in vain that it would put a straitjacket on the President.

Sen. Daniel (D-Tex.) obtained adoption of an amendment to exempt newspapers, the radio and television industry and other means of communications from controls authority. He said this would simplify continued exemptions written into the act ever since it was first passed in 1950.

Charges Considered

Washington, (AP) — Chairman Velde (R-Ind.) said yesterday the House Committee on Un-American Activities is considering contentions charges against various witnesses who have refused to testify about alleged Communist connections.

One of the women, Mrs. Sophie Decatur, is to be evicted today from Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's Parkchester housing development in the Bronx. The group of seven included one other Negro woman and five white women.

When Jimmy first got the dog six months ago, there was no problem. "Shep" had been a small pup then. But like most Shepherd dogs, "Shep" kept right on growing until he was half the size of Jimmy and ate almost twice as much.

Young James made his decision promptly. Later he told police: "I just couldn't run with Shep. So I decided to run away."

Jimmy began hitchhiking rides on Route 46. The first ride took him to Lake Hopatcong, N.J. From there he caught a ride on into Pennsylvania with a motorist bound for Scranton.

Here's the way it all began: At 7:30 a.m. Saturday, Jimmy overheard his sister, Marilyn, saying that the boy's dog, "Shep," would have to be given away. "Shep," it had been decided by the family, ate too much and was getting too big.

When the State troopers found out Jimmy had been hitchhiking, they began asking questions, the boy said.

"I told the troopers I lived in Stroudsburg and was on my way home," Jimmy declared.

According to Jimmy the troopers gave him a bus ticket to Stroudsburg. He got on the bus, came here, got off and promptly hitched a ride back to Scranton.

Lim Tops Voting For School Board

Race for Republican nomination for school director in Stroudsburg—a four way affair—was won by Dr. John P. Lim, Clarence D. Ackerman and Richard Fredenberg.

They finished in that order with Dr. Lim receiving 306 votes, Ackerman 265 and Fredenberg 232. Out of the running was Elwood W. Granacher with 166.

Dr. Marshall R. Metzgar with 225 and Samuel S. Everitt with 208, only two Democrats on the ballot, were easy winners. Write-ins may determine a third Democratic candidate when the official count is completed.

Each party was entitled to nominate three people.

Brennan Posts High Vote For Tax Collector

Mount Pocono—M. J. Brennan won the Democratic nomination for tax collector here in a three-way race yesterday.

Brennan received 37 votes. Trailing him were Richard P. DeHaven with 18 and Glenn Boote with 12. Bessie C. Ingersoll, unopposed for the GOP nomination, scored 84 votes.

Next fall Frank Birdsall, J. John Davis, Jr. and George T. Walker, all Republicans, will face Patrick J. Hogan, William J. Murray and Emanuel Miller, all Democrats for three council seats. Both groups were unopposed.

Charles Brock, unopposed for GOP nomination for school director, received 88 votes. He will be opposed by James M. Battisto, Democrat, who received 59 votes.

Churchill Comes Within Four Votes Of House Defeat

London, (AP) — The Churchill government had a close call in the House of Commons last night. It came within four votes of going down to defeat and brought Socialist cries of "resign."

The issue was a Labor party proposal to exempt amateur theatricals from entertainment tax even though they have a paid conductor in the orchestra pit.

The amendment, tacked on the finance bill was rejected 272 to 268. That was the narrowest squeak for the Conservatives since they came to power in 1951.

Runaway Boy Returns; Dog To Stay

A 13-year-old Whippany, N.J. boy, Jimmy Hull, was back home last night, after a 30-hour run away flight in protest against his parents' decision to give away his pet German Shepherd dog.

Jimmy's hitch-hike journey took him through Stroudsburg three times on his way to and from Scranton.

On one of the trips, he stopped for an early morning snack at a local diner.

According to Jimmy's story, verified in part by police authorities, the curly-haired youth was picked up once for "loitering" in Scranton and was riding with a motorist who was arrested by State police for speeding.

Here's the way it all began: At 7:30 a.m. Saturday, Jimmy overheard his sister, Marilyn, saying that the boy's dog, "Shep," would have to be given away. "Shep," it had been decided by the family, ate too much and was getting too big.

The motorist, said Jimmy, was in a big hurry. Just outside of Scranton, State police picked the man up on a charge of speeding, Jimmy said.

When the State troopers found out Jimmy had been hitchhiking, they began asking questions, the boy said.

"I told the troopers I lived in Stroudsburg and was on my way home," Jimmy declared.

According to Jimmy the troopers gave him a bus ticket to Stroudsburg. He got on the bus, came here, got off and promptly hitched a ride back to Scranton.

While Jimmy was hitchhiking back and forth, New Jersey State police had sent out a 13-state alarm for the lost boy and his dog.

Light Voting Marks Primary Election Throughout State

One of the worst primary turnouts in the memory of many veteran political observers overshadowed everything else about yesterday's election despite many local contests and two county office races—the battle of Republicans for county treasurer nomination and the battle of Democrats for Associate Judge nominations.

Frank J. Weller, prominent in veterans affairs in this region, won the Republican nomination for county treasurer in the three-way battle with Clarence S. Rutt, Stroudsburg salesman and John Wernett, county auditor and a resident of Saylorsburg.

Weller, who will face Edwin Giffels, Sr., Stroudsburg, the unopposed Democratic nominee, received 782 votes.

Wernett polled 579 and Rutt 552. Associate Judge Homer A. Shupp, retired effort farmer and a veteran on the Monroe County court bench led the Democratic race for nomination to that office.

He was trailed by John C. Smith, Barrett Township resident, who won the other Democratic nomination.

Charles A. Keiper, Stroudsburg, was third man.

Judge Shupp received 1,443 votes, Smith 1,249 and Keiper 1,007.

They will be opposed at the November general election by Dayton W. Frankenfield, retired Stroudsburg shoe merchant and Joseph S. Price, retired Barrett hotelman.

Both of these Republicans had no opposition.

Dr. Charles Rushmore, East Stroudsburg physician was unopposed for the Republican nomination for county coroner.

Dr. John Sweeney apparently won the Democratic nomination for county coroner. Dr. Sweeney is a resident of S. Sixth St., where he maintains his office as a chiropractor.

The light vote was evident throughout the State, where off-year apathy and a scarcity of local interest-provoking issues kept voters away from the polls in near-record numbers.

U.S. Troops In Europe For Lengthy Stay

Washington, (AP) — American troops and military aid may be needed in Europe for a long time, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said yesterday.

He told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he could not now foresee the time when Western Europe could take over its own defense without help and said Russia's peace offensive is cutting down the European desire to re-arm.

Ridgway, who is retiring as commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces in Europe to become Army Chief of Staff, supported the administration's request for a $5,800,000,000 foreign aid program for the year starting July 1.

"It is going to take a long time," he told the committee, for Europe "to develop self-sufficiency in the military field" so that American troops can come home.

Wash. (AP) — The lowest draft call since last September was fixed yesterday at 2,244 men for next month.

State Selective Service headquarters said that practically all of the Pennsylvanians inducted would be in the 19-year-old class.

Social Changes Discussed By Lions Speaker

Stroudsburg Lions at their regular dinner meeting last night at the Penn-Stroud hotel had as guest of honor, Dr. C. W. Dupee, professor of education at State Teachers College, who addressed them on "A Changing Social Order."

He emphasized that social changes are inevitable and said that he did not, by any means, pretend to give the answers to social problems. On the contrary he wanted only to suggest ideas that had occurred to him in the hope that his hearers would, for themselves, think out specific answers.

Touching first on religious angles he referred to the idea of Bertrand Russell, that the acceptance of dogmatic assertions prevent speculation. He explained the basic ideas of the old polytheistic religions of Egypt, Greece and Rome and stated that these had been found untenable and had given place to the idea of one god, in the Christian dispensation. He explained that man has always posed two questions to himself: "Whence do I come?" and "Whither am I going?"

Conforming to laws of concentration and simplification he suggested that since the past has seen the cutting down of godhead from the many to one, the next theory may mean a change from one to none. He emphasized that to admit the likelihood of change is not, by any means to admit that the change may be good.

He pictured the sensation Jesus must have caused when he arose in a polytheistic world and preached the doctrine of one god. How a modern congregation would receive some modern crusaders, who would arise in a church of today and preach that there is no god was a thing of interesting speculation, he said. Touching on the police attribute of religion he said that many people had been good because they hesitated to be otherwise because of fear.

He touched on the power of the emotions in religion saying that modifications are discernible. The manner of mourning, a highly emotional matter, shows great change from the older times.

The great change in these emotional matters, he thought, is found in the fact that now people are likely to ask themselves, "What is the sensible thing to do?"

He carefully surveyed the transition from the old agricultural society to the present complicated and urban one, pointing out that today's complicated life makes it more difficult for pure democracy to function. This may imply changes in the system of America and, perhaps, not too good ones either.

Under all states of society he explained the acquisition of food, shelter and clothing give man his most difficult problems and he thought encouragement was found in the fact, that the great modern swings are mostly toward the things of greater intelligence.

In the business session former President William P. Deering reported the list of nominations for officers for the coming year. Later, he served as inducting officer and inducted Edgar Van Why, the youngest of the club's cubs.

Former President T. Manning Curtis called attention to the splendid attendance record of Harold Miller and presented him with a perfect attendance button.

Tom DeVivo served as tall twister.

A book of sports records put out by the Olympic Committee was ordered presented to one of the borough high schools and a second ordered for the other.

Hawaiian Beauty Arrives Here For Fashion Show

Hawaiian breezes blew into town yesterday in the form of Beverly Rivera, sixth-place winner in last year's Miss America contest. The olive-complexioned beauty made an auspicious entry in the Stroudsburgs aboard a bright red convertible just after alighting from Wyckoff's Department Store plane at East Stroudsburg Airport.

Tonight Beverly Rivera, the 20-year-old pageant finalist makes her bow for area residents at a Wyckoff fashion show in East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Auditorium. Proceeds of the show, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, are earmarked for the finish-the-job building campaign of Monroe County's new YMCA.

Selected from a large field of entrants, all gathered from Hawaii's nine inhabited islands, Beverly displayed her talent (and we do mean talent) to judges in Atlantic City where she won a scholarship to her native island's university.

Her trip to the States is sponsored by Hawaii's Chamber of Commerce and Kamahehaha Farms, Ltd., a manufacturing firm in her homeland.

Miss Hawaii left California over the weekend and was met at LaGuardia Field, N. Y. by a committee of Kiwanians and Wyckoff personnel. E. Holt Wyckoff piloted the plane bringing Beverly here. Her guests on the trip were Parke Kunkle, Kiwanis president and his wife and Mrs. Catherine Miller, Welcome Wagon hostess.

Taxing to its parking place at Hal Hamlen's airport, the plane pulled up before a score of awaiting Kiwanians, Wyckoff representatives and spectators, all bent on a glimpse of the Hawaiian girl here to view the Poconos.

Gerald P. O'Neill, owner of the Penn-Stroud Hotel where Beverly is making her headquarters, and past president of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce extended the official welcome. He was assisted by George Savidge, Kiwanis chairman for the event.

Riding behind a station wagon equipped with amplification, with A. A. Widmer, store advertising manager, paving the way for the motorcade with his announcements, the chain of cars was met at the outskirts of East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg by police, who escorted the group. The promenade ended at the Penn Stroud.

The glamorous Miss Hawaii expects to study either business administration or merchandising when she enters the University of Hawaii.

Beverly will don a sarong dress tonight at the fashion show which begins at 8. She will be interviewed by John Watts, of the Kiwanis

Vets Prepare Graves For Memorial Day

In preparation for Memorial Day, Monroe County's Veterans Affairs personnel visited 70 cemeteries in the past few weeks giving attention to veterans graves.

Howard Mount, county VA officer, reported the graves committees of American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts in the county are assisting in the 56th year of traditional work.

Work consisted of cleaning, seeding the ground, and repairing headstones of veterans whose relatives have died or where perpetual care does not prevail.

Beginning Sunday, committee members will place flags in all rural cemeteries, Mount said. Flags will be available at the Stroudsburg VA office or from co-chairmen of various routes.

Flags will be placed in the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg cemeteries Thursday and Friday nights, May 28 and 29.

An appeal for assistance in erecting the flags was made by Mount. Mount said in the event the grave of a veteran is overlooked by the committee, members of the family, or friends may contact the Stroudsburg VFW Home or call the VA office.

Cooperating in this year's program are members of Thomas P. Lambert Post 2540, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Stroudsburg; Post 246, American Legion; Society of the 28th Division; Marine Corps League; West End Memorial Post, American Legion; Evan-Blitz Post, American Legion, Mountainhome, and Wilson-Fischer Post, American Legion, Pocono Lake.

YMCA Directors Complete Awarding Of $480,000 Contracts

$47,000 Still To Be Raised In Campaign

Monroe County YMCA directors last night completed awarding contracts totaling $479,773.79.

The decision to award the contracts was made despite the fact that the building campaign fund is $47,461.50 short of its $302,538.50 in cash and pledges.

Directors have until April 1, 1956, to raise the rest according to one of the terms of a grant of $125,000 by S. S. Kresge recently.

The special gifts committee elected to stay on the job in the attempt to raise the $47 thousand shortage. They will be aided by commando teams made up of the recent campaign's top solicitors.

The contracts awarded last night did not include the one for construction of Unit 1, awarded in February at a figure of $275,477.

Contracts have now been awarded to: Paul Edinger, general contractor; Matt Kime, electrical contractor; H. C. Archibald, heating contractor; H. L. Cleveland; and Kolax Inc., kitchen equipment.

Dayton W. Frankenfield, president of the Y board, set up a committee to study the interim budget and to seek a place to carry on Y activities while the building is under construction.

Committee reports were read, and directors thanked all units, organizations and individuals who aided in the campaign.

Jury Awards Woman $1,600 In Damages

After deliberating nearly two hours a civil court jury awarded damages of $1,600 to an Effort woman whose house was struck by a car last summer.

She was Anna E. Schoch, represented by Christie D. Shull.

The defendant, Morris Birnbaum of Brooklyn, N.Y., was counselled by George T. Robinson.

The accident occurred last July when Birnbaum's car left Route 115, traveled 100 feet and came to rest against the house, according to police.

The case was the last civil trial for the May session. Cases remaining on the calendar were continued.

President Judge Fred W. Davis starts civil court session in Pike County today, with nine cases listed for trial.

Firemen from all three local companies responded to the alarm. They said it was believed that the fire resulted from a short circuit in the electrical wiring.

Damage was from smoke, fire and water.

Seranton Fire Causes Loss Of $150,000

Seranton, (AP)—Damage estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000 was caused yesterday by a fire that swept a four-story building on Lackawanna Ave. near Adams in the central business district. The estimate, an unofficial one, was given by fire department authorities.

Heavy smoke seeped into the 12-story Casey Hotel, the city's largest, located two doors from the burning structure. About 100 guests in rooms up to the fifth floor level were routed. The hotel did not catch fire.

The first floor of the burning building was occupied by the Crittenden Pharmacy and a restaurant. On the second floor was the restaurant's Plantation Room, used for banquets and private parties. The third and fourth floors were occupied by a lingerie firm.

Fire Supt. William Morgan said the blaze started as the result of an explosion in the first floor kitchen of the restaurant. The flames burned through the restaurant and up three floors, spreading into the pharmacy. It took firemen about 90 minutes to bring the blaze under control.

Yoshida Elected As Socialists Refuse To Vote

Tokyo, (AP)—Shigeru Yoshida became prime minister of Japan for the fifth time yesterday when Right Wing socialists broke away from the coalition which unelected him in March.

Right Wing Socialist Diet members refused to vote for Yoshida's principal rival, Mamoru Shigemitsu. This cost the peg-legged little diplomat the chance to head the government whose surrender he signed aboard the battleship Missouri at the end of the Pacific War.

The Socialists gave no explanation, but it is believed they abstained because they strongly oppose policies of both Yoshida and Shigemitsu.

Interior Dept. To Fire 2,098

Washington, (AP)—The Interior Department said yesterday it is giving dismissal notices to 2,098 employees. The department had 56,178 employees on March 31.

However, officials said some of the employees receiving 30-day notices may be retained on the pay roll through shifts into other jobs or if the Senate approves more money for the department in the year starting July 1 than the House voted.

Runaway Boy Returns Home

Waitresses Hillary Ross and Ruth Cooby went outside the diner, talked with Jimmy and played with Shep. Then someone said something to Jimmy in an abrupt tone.

Jimmy apparently mistook the tone for a reprimand. He bolted down the bus terminal driveway, followed by Shep in close pursuit. That was the last the waitresses saw of boy or dog.

Later on, the two women repeated their story to Mrs. Hazel Bennett, night supervisor at the diner.

From Stroudsburg, Jimmy apparently hitched a ride with a motorist who took him to Portland. At Portland, he says, he caught another ride with an Army M.P. officer who took him as far as Parsippany, N.J.

Jim and Shep slept in a field off Route 46, the boy says. When Jimmy awoke, he went to a store across the highway, told the proprietor his story and asked him to call the Parsippany police.

Taken to the borough police headquarters, the boy told his story over again. Police took him home.

At home, Mr. and Mrs. James Hull-Jimmy's parents—had apparently decided that Shep could stay. They reassured Jimmy on his arrival back home.

At first, Parsippany police and other officials seemed skeptical about Jimmy's story. Then, bit by bit, the confirmation began to come in from along the route Jim had taken.

It was beginning to add up to the most amazing odyssey of the year for a young man and his dog.

Total cost of the trip: $5.98.

When police picked Jimmy up he had exactly two cents left in his pocket.

But he'd won his argument: A boy is a dog's best friend.

IN A NEAR-EMPTY COURT HOUSE corridor yesterday J. Clarence Shafer sits half asleep as most of the voters in Stroudsburg's Second Ward stay away from the polls. Time: 4:30 p.m., and fewer than 100 had voted. By closing time around 200 had voted out of the ward's 801. Light balloting was typical throughout the county.

Three Soldiers Retaken After Escaping Guards

Hershey, (AP)—Three Army prisoners who escaped while being transferred to the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation were recaptured near here last night by state police.

Authorities at Indiantown Gap identified the trio as Dennis G. Gough, 19, and Stanley J. Gough, 21, both of New Castle, Pa., and Russell R. Hoover, 24, of DuBois, Pa.

The men escaped yesterday afternoon after overpowering their guards and the driver of the bus taking them to the Second Army stockade at the Gap from Pittsburg.

Four other prisoners on the bus did not attempt to flee. None of the guards or the bus driver were injured in the escape attempt.

Rainmaker Offers Services To Prevent Rain; Doesn't Guarantee Perfect Results

New York, (AP)—What does a rainmaker do when he's not making rain? Well, Rainmaker Wallace E. Howell offered yesterday to prevent rain.

The switcheroo found favor with Irving Rosenthal, who owns the big Palisades Amusement Park across the Hudson River in New Jersey. He rhapsodized:

"If only we could advertise, 'Come up to the Palisades—it won't rain today.'"

It was just about three years ago that Dr. Howell, a meteorologist, was drawing $100 a day to try to make rain for the parched city of New York. After five months of seeding clouds with chemicals, Dr. Howell modestly proclaimed:

"I have made rain." (Dr. Howell set up his rain-making equipment in the Pocono Mountains).

But nature took the job away from him. And in this, one of the wettest Springs in years, New York needs a rainmaker like it needs a hole in the head.

So Dr. Howell contacted amusement park owners and proposed to try his hand at preventing rain. If it works on a limited basis, resort men don't see why it can't be tried nationally. Millions of dollars in business is at stake.

"We'll knock the clouds senseless for a little while," is the way Dr. Howell envisions his latest project.

He explained this meant over-seeding the clouds with a smoke screen of silver iodide until they become so overloaded with ice that raindrops become trapped by ice particles.

Howell suggested a tryout on four weekends at Palisades Park. He didn't promise sunshine. He did think he might prevent rain, although he conceded to the amusement park men:

"There will be times, God help us, when we'll do all we can and it will still rain."

He recalled, no doubt, the times when he used to do all he could and it still didn't rain.

Fire Wrecks Reiner Barn At Kunkletown

Kunkletown — Fire gutted a barn about a mile from here yesterday.

Owner of the barn was Milford Reiner. Kunkletown volunteers succeeded in saving five head of cattle and a walking plow from the structure, but a tractor stored on the inside was heavily damaged by flames.

The fire broke out at about 12:30 p.m. on Reiner's farm, located on the Weir Mountain road.

Roof of the barn was destroyed by fire, outside frame was left standing. Damages were not estimated last night.

Firemen fought to confine the flames to the barn itself; kept fire from spreading to nearby Reiner home. A tree near the house was slightly damaged.

Kunkletown Fire Chief is Lewis Pyscher.

Kitchen Plan Takes Much Into Account

How to plan a kitchen when you're building a new house involves much more than placing super-deluxe equipment around four walls. Whether you're going to have what appliance manufacturers call a U-shaped, L-shaped or assembly-line-shaped kitchen is really the last chapter.

If you want what you'd consider the ideal kitchen for you, that last chapter will be planned for, naturally, and as carefully as a last chapter is planned for in the most intricate detective story. But it won't be the whole story.

The actual whodunit in your kitchen plan, if you work it out for a happy ending, will be the way your family likes to live. This may change even the location of your front door, your bathroom, perhaps your bedrooms, your windows—the whole exterior appearance of your house.

It sounds fantastic, but it isn't. If you don't mind carrying a dripping carton of oysters through your living room you can put your kitchen where you might have a far corner bedroom, safe from the sound of a doorbell. But it seems we expect a kitchen to be convenient in more ways than one.

You'll notice that some of the slickest house plans today take the way you like to live quite seriously. The backdoor, or service door, no matter where it faces, opens into a small vestibule. This is a feature very much appreciated in bad weather—a place to receive deliveries, remove wet wraps, galoshes and park umbrellas.

When a service vestibule also serves the basement stairs, its value is doubled. This means the cellar stairs will be handy to the kitchen and maintenance men and meter readers won't have to wander around on your rugs.

Give the service vestibule access to a lavatory or bathroom and you really have something, especially in a family with children or with gardening hobbies. Architects who plan houses with the nearest bathroom removed from an outside door by many square yards of broadloom apparently never got their hands and feet muddy in the garden.

The comparatively new idea of dividing bathrooms so that two lavatories can be separated by a door makes the location of a bathroom near the kitchen much more economical than building an extra bathroom. It is possible to plan a house with a compartmented bathroom serving both the bedrooms and the kitchen-backdoor area. Keeping kitchen and bathroom adjacent also makes for economy in plumbing.

Although we can't have everything and must make compromises, it's a good idea at least to think of everything you can before it's too late to change your mind.

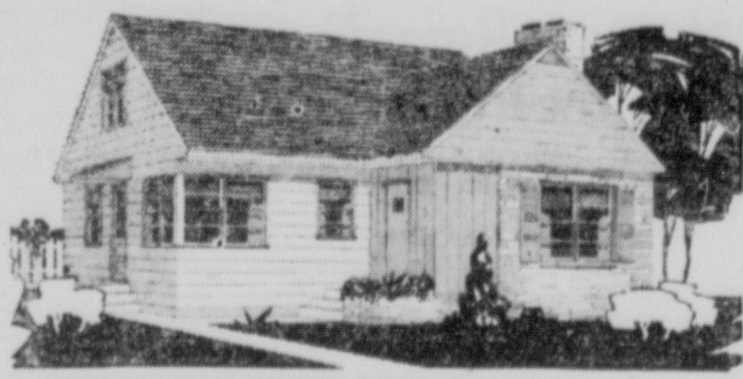

For instance—kitchen windows. A bright and cheerful kitchen is a good setup in the morning. This calls for an eastern exposure if you can manage it, to catch the morning sun. But a kitchen generates a lot of heat, so it's more comfortable to have it on the cool northern side of a house than on the south. You have to consider this.

Then the size and shape of your kitchen windows make holes in your exterior design. So you weigh them along with other window arrangements. And a dining porch is great in balmy weather. You want it covered to keep the rain out? Then figure on how much it may darken your kitchen if your kitchen windows open on it.

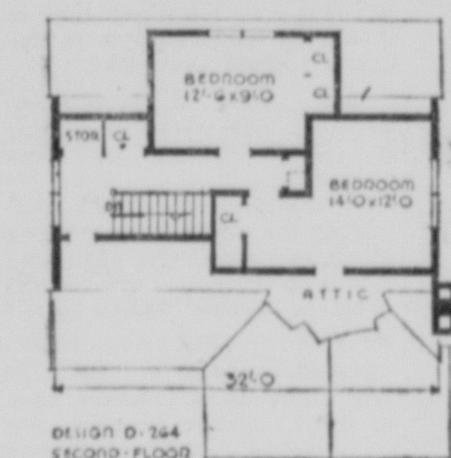

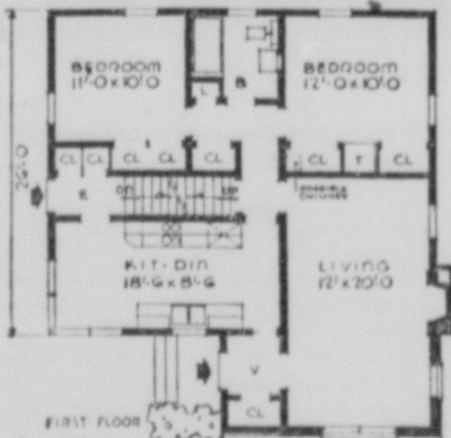

The front doorbell must be remembered. How far must the housewife walk every time it rings? Does she want a view of the front yard to see who is approaching the house? Maybe you'll want your kitchen at the front of the house.

Ventilating hoods over kitchen ranges, carrying off all fumes, steam and smoke, have made it unnecessary to isolate kitchens. Open planning now merges living room, dining room and kitchen in one open sweep with little more than furniture separating them. Robert P. Gerholtz of Flint, Mich., recently told a House & Home forum in New York: "We built a 'Trade Secrets' house with the open kitchen. I don't think I will ever build another closed kitchen."

It seems that builders are discovering that people live in kitchens. "Are people really living in

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. D-264

House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.
House Planning Bureau of Canada, St. John, New Brunswick.

Design D-264. This compact plan has two bedrooms on the first floor rear, with living room and combination kitchen-dinette in front. It also has the advantage of an attic where two bedrooms may be left unfinished for the future.

The circulation between rooms is ideal, using an exceptionally small hall, with access from the kitchen to the front door without entering the living room. A fireplace is shown, but if it is eliminated a space is provided for a furnace chimney.

Storage space consists of 11 closets, including coat closets and linen cabinets on both floors. There is a full basement, and the ground area is 976 sq. ft. with cubage of 21,672 cu. ft.

For further information about Design D-264, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. John, New Brunswick.

Safety Should Be Watchword In Nursery

Decorating a baby's room should go hand in hand with safety measures that will prevent accidents and sustain mother's peace of mind.

All nursery furniture should have rounded edges and a non-toxic finish (required by law in some states). To prevent baby from putting his head between crib slats, make certain slats are no more than three and one-quarter inches apart.

Additional suggestions come from "Baby Care Manual," quarterly publication for new mothers:

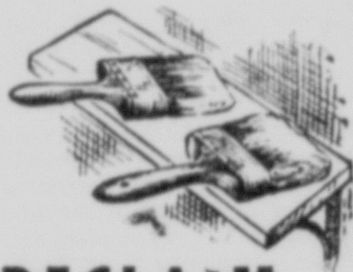

A playpen bought when a child reaches the active and playful age of three months should be sturdy enough to withstand the romping of an older baby. Select a pen with casters, if possible, so it can be moved out of drafts. Keep a soft washable pad on the bottom of the pen until the baby is old enough to stand or sit most of the time.

Remember that every toy will eventually find its way to baby's mouth. Junior's first toys should be chewable, but not small enough to be swallowed. Make certain all playthings are washable, non-toxic in their finishes, without sharp edges or detachable parts.

Snow-On-Mountain Takes Dry Soil

Snow-on-the-mountain (Euphorbia marginata) is a pretty plant that is very useful for growing in dry, sandy soil where most other annuals will not thrive. The flowers are inconspicuous, but when they approach maturity the leaves below them become broadly edged with white. They are so attractive that many gardeners cut them for indoor display.

They are excellent for this purpose provided the cuts are seared promptly in a hot flame for about three seconds before being plunged deeply into cool water. Unless thus treated they become limp and useless.

Style Often Influences Decoration

Decorating trends are often influenced in the fashion world, notably in color. Brilliant orange and purple tones, for instance, have been fashionable for several seasons in dress fabrics. Decorating fabrics, too, are currently to be seen in these colors, less brilliant and more muted, of course, so you can live with them longer.

Orange tones, presently favored by decorators, include pinky orange, salmon, crab-apple, red peach, russet, apricot and amber. Often shades of orange are combined with greens or blues for an iridescent effect.

Purples run the gamut from lilac to mauve, and are dramatic combined with white, green or soft blues, like hydrangea or delphinium blue. Yellow is a wonderful combining color with the purple tones, providing the warm bright note needed for pleasant color surroundings.

The body of St. Nicholas (San Nicola) (the original Santa Claus), was stolen by Italian fishermen from Asia Minor in 1087 and is still in Bari, Italy.

Use Proper Thinner To Clean Brushes

Use the proper thinner for the product you've painted with, when cleaning brushes. Brushes dipped in oil paint, enamel or varnish should be cleaned with turpentine followed by naphtha or mineral spirits. Use alcohol to clean brushes used for shellac or alcohol stain. Use lacquer thinner for lacquer brushes.

Jurist Holds Wayne County Treasurer For Grand Jury In Connection With Shortage

Wayne County Treasurer Ruth E. Spangenberg was bound over to the grand jury yesterday by Judge James F. Henninger, Allentown.

The 44-year-old woman was arraigned before Judge Henninger in March. He did not hand down his order until yesterday.

Mrs. Spangenberg is charged by county commissioners with being $6,855.97 short in her accounts.

The charges followed auditing of Mrs. Spangenberg's books by Wayne County auditors.

Commissioners investigated after the alleged shortage was reported.

They filed a five-count charge: Use of tax money for a purpose for which it was not intended; use of $5,000 of this money for the treasurer's personal use; false entries in county check books; improper use of county funds; and conversion of funds from two checks to her own use.

Mrs. Spangenberg has steadily denied the charges of the commissioners and auditors. She is free on $2,000 bond.

Christine said in the petition that the cases resulted from a single Delaware Water Gap collision Aug. 21, 1951, when Police Chief Fred Decker charged Lester J. Young with reckless driving, and Frank Randazzo Jr. with driving too fast for conditions.

Randazzo was fined $10 and Young was fined $25. Both appealed the findings. The petition said both appeals had been withdrawn, and that Randazzo and Young were agreed that the case is essentially a civil courts matter of damages.

Changes In Draft Deferments Seen

Washington, (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, said yesterday defense mobilization officials are studying proposed changes to tighten up on draft deferments for college students.

The changes would become effective in September and would principally affect freshmen, sophomores, and graduate students, Hershey said.

One of the changes he has recommended in negotiations with the Manpower Commission of the office of Defense Mobilization would provide that high school seniors be allowed to take the selective service college qualification test which is now confined to college students.

EISENHOWER'S BASIC BELIEFS

in our national Capitol, but a new order.

This slow penetration of what ought to be obvious is understandable. The grooves worn by twenty New and Fair Deal years are deep ones. Not only Democrats, but more than a few Republicans travelled in them. Many of them, Republicans as well as Democrats, found the going good.

The going was particularly good—it was made to order, in fact—for those who assume that the highest service of the voting citizen is self-service and that the politician's noblest calling is to get re-elected.

The old grooves are still there. The old inclination to travel them is there also.

Both will, no doubt, remain until the forces of organized selfishness and their political spokesmen are persuaded that, with no undue risk of benefits or benefit-induced votes, they can go along with Eisenhower.

Such persuasion is likely to be a long time in coming. Anybody's program of persuasion along those lines would forthwith run head-on into the President's most deeply held convictions about America and its government.

Those convictions can be set forth in terms of the specific changes which, if he finds the country does mean business, President Eisenhower aims to bring about:

1. From government consciously directed toward amassing more and more power OVER the people to a government consciously directed toward vesting more and more power IN the people;
2. From government consciously directed toward assuming more and more responsibility FOR the people to one consciously directed toward the exercise of more and more responsibility BY the people;

3. From government whose foremost reliance is on laws to one whose foremost reliance is on men; a government which prefers and practices leadership by precept and example, rather than by directive and coercion;

4. From government which, to rule, sets group against group, region against region, the Federal government against the States, the Executive against the Congress to a government which, by good-will, cooperation and reasonable compromise, returns to the practice of the earlier American principle that "in unity there is strength";

5. From splinter-government held together by and capitalizing on special benefits to special-interest groups to a national government which seeks to find out and act by: What is good for America;

6. From a government whose most important principles are material and whose political power derives from dollar benefits, to one committed to the principle that all our values, including the material ones, have their source in and can only be insured by strength that is moral and spiritual.

These generalities will be more widely agreed to than the specifics to which the President is determined to reduce them. The specifics are due to hurt.

Those who fear that prospect had better begin now to run out or hole up. The President is not likely to abandon either the principles or the policies by which they will be turned into more than words.

If he fails, it will be less his failure than ours. If, with him, we succeed, then 1952 will have not just been another election, but a turning point in our history.

Campbell urged attendance of all men of the class at the County Men's Council Breakfast next Sunday morning at the East Stroudsburg Methodist church.

Hosts for last night's supper were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Kiefer and Dr. and Mrs. Elton Denning.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

So you think that just because every day brings another "final meeting of the year" that things are going to ease up around the family homestead? Well, think again.

What with store openings and Miss Hawaii riding around in red roadsters and flags flying it takes much longer to get your shopping done.

Think you'll have a leisurely supper? Well, what about Little League practice, or Little Bigger League, or even bigger golf matches?

No meetings on the calendar? But what about the picnics you get ready for and it rains? Or, even more disastrous, the picnics you don't get ready for and it clears up?

No, the problems never seem to grow less. But then neither does the fun you have, what with one thing and another.

However there are times when I could wish each one of the family could sprout wings and get the places they have to go without involving the family transportation system—which is me.

Well, see you at the fashion show. So many of the men have been raving about Miss Hawaii that we owe it to ourselves to see for ourselves, don't you think?

An interesting feature of the "I Love Lucy" TV success is the news that this program was tried on radio a few years back under the title, "My Favorite Husband." And it didn't last very long! Now the original "My Favorite Husband" series, under that title, is being groomed as a new TV hit, starring Joan Caulfield and Barry Nelson in the roles once filled by Lucy and Desi.

NBC TV has solved its dilemma about the Milton Berle show. Berle starting next fall, will be on the air for a new sponsor on a two-weeks-on, one-week-off basis. The replacement every third week will be a new Bob Hope show... which will please a lot of Hope's fans who want to see him more often.

The TV era gives the stars plenty of chances for television-inspired jokes... like the one Herb Shriner tells: "I just moved into my apartment. Had trouble with my living room, but I finally got it furnished, complete now: a TV set, a dozen camp chairs and an usher's uniform." And Fred Allen complains, "TV fans know what you look like, so when you put on a bad show, they can come out of the saloon and get at you." Why go out to watch TV when it's so easy to own one of our quality sets on liberal terms? And we sell satisfaction, not just a set, with fine installation and service after the sale at KNIPE TELEVISION & RADIO SERVICE, 18 N. Sixth St. Phone 2882 J.

DVBS Changes Place Of June Session

The theme of this year's school will be "Our Place in God's World." The intermediate department theme will be "We Know the Bible is True"; the junior theme, "The Road from Earth to Heaven"; the primary theme, "We Choose to Do Right"; and the beginners' "The World God Made."

Birthday In Bangor

Friends from Stroudsburg joined others in helping Mrs. Fred Tremain, of East Bangor in celebrating her birthday on May 15.

Refreshments were the highlight of the afternoon. Guests included Mrs. Lizzie LaBar, Mrs. Jane Kintner, Mrs. Lizzie Fetherman, Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Wertheimer, Mrs. Marie Fredrick, Mrs. Russell Wildrick, Mrs. B. Weber, Raymond LeBar and Mrs. Fred Tremain.

Miss Hawaii brought the south sea isles to Stroudsburg yesterday when she arrived in her Kiwanis-sponsored motorcade for a visit with Wyckoff's. But it was Blanche Mackey and a few of our store clowns who flooded the place with south sea smiles.

Blanche—one of the most genial of our store family members—had consented to be on hand early today to hand out orchids in our sports-wear department, where Miss Hawaii is to be the featured attraction. She also agreed to wear a TWA hostess uniform for the occasion. Later, however, she returned from lunch to find the plans somewhat changed. On her desk was an unreasonable facsimile of a grass skirt, made of shredded yellow paper that looked like the scraps left from a child's birthday table. There were also some leis.

"Dear Blanche," said the accompanying note, "this is your costume for in the window tomorrow. Consult Mr. Wells."

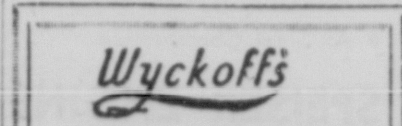

For the first time in her life, Blanche rebelled. One look at the ensemble and she grew pale. "Why they can't do this to me," she mourned, wrapping it around her own print-skirt. "Just look at this thing—it's unreasonable! Orders or not, I just won't do it." When one appeal after another fell on deaf ears, Blanche put her foot down. Hard. And it wasn't a bare foot either. It wore a spike heel, so vehement it could have cut more than a rug.

Not until Mr. Kerlin assured our Frigidare saleslady that a dreadful mistake had been made, did Blanche warm up—even a little—to the original idea. But at last all is peaceful once again... as peaceful as the beach at Waikiki.

The laughs are over, perhaps... but the whole store is still pleasantly excited over our Hawaiian promotion. We're delighted to have Miss Hawaii with us. She's just about as sweet and pretty a young woman as could be found anywhere. We're thrilled about tonight's fashion show at the college, in benefit of the YMCA building fund. And we're excited about all of the summer "fun and sun" merchandise now on display.

As for the grass skirt and the leis (one of which has just been wrapped around my neck by Walter Wyckoff, who seems intent on decorating the entire staff) Elsie Miller is confident that, even though Blanche didn't find them becoming, the kiddies of the town will adore them. Maybe she's right. Maybe they will give Hopalong Cassidy hats a run for their money. Maybe the Hawaiian guitar will replace the double barreled revolver. Maybe our cherubs will begin singing "Aloha" and stop yelling "Hi yo, Silver."

Maybe our man Godfrey has succeeded in wresting our land from the Injuns and giving it, for a restful while, to "the skirts." Ho-la for that!

Tax Deadlock Halts Action On FEPC Bill

Harrisburg, (AP)—Chairman Edward M. Young, (R-Mercer) of the House Labor Relations Committee yesterday ruled out any action on fair employment practices legislation until the tax deadlock is broken.

The administration-backed bill to ban discrimination in employment or union membership because of race, creed, color or national origin calls for a $750,000 appropriation for administration purposes.

"With that appropriation to be considered," Young said, "it would be completely idiotic to act on FEPC until we found out where the money is coming from."

The lawmakers, who took a short recess for yesterday's primary election, reconvene today with taxes still the prime issue.

Republican House and Senate leaders arranged, meantime, to get together today in the office of Sen. Rowland B. Mahany to go over the tax situation.

"We're going to try to work out a tax program," said Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader.

Johnson said that in event the GOP leaders decided the discarded sales tax cannot be revised they would go over the entire range of tax possibilities as a substitute.

These would include, Johnson said, an income tax based upon the amount of federal income tax paid, which was proposed by Rep. Baker Royer (R-Lancaster). Johnson said such an income tax "would not be too bad an idea if it is constitutional." The State Constitution prohibits a graduated income tax such as is imposed by the federal government.

The Royer income tax proposal would levy a certain percentage upon the taxes paid to the federal government. Johnson said that such a levy would hit the average family much more than the discarded sales tax.

Young, who voted against FEPC in 1951 when the bill passed the House but died in a Senate committee, said there was a possibility he may vote for the measure this year.

But he was frankly skeptical that his committee will act on the controversial issue until the legislature devises a way of plugging a $157 million dollar gap in Gov. John S. Fine's proposed $1,400,000,000 budget for the commonwealth.

"To me," he said, "this is a minor issue—no more important than a lot of other things. Sometimes these things die natural deaths. They don't have to be killed by blows."

The governor is actively backing the FEPC bill as he did in 1951. He plans to meet with the state council for an FEPC Monday to lay plans to push it through the legislature.

But on taxes, a blank page stares at the tax-hunting lawmakers.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said abandonment of the 1 per cent sales tax proposal left him without "a single idea" for a tax alternative.

Last week, however, a tax package was introduced without administration support calling for a mercantile tax of a 1/2 per cent on retailers and a 1/4 per cent on wholesalers. It would bring in about 160 millions a biennium.

The same package included a proposal to increase the 4-cent a pack cigarette tax to 5 cents and to impose a 5 per cent levy on hotel room occupancy.

The Pennsylvania Retailers Association is actively opposing the mercantile tax as are community business groups throughout the state.

There was some speculation that the mercantile impost may be used in a "squeeze play" to line up support to revive the discarded sales tax.

The "squeeze play," if it materializes, could fall on the basis that the mercantile tax is actually a disguised sales tax except that it is paid on the gross income of a businessman.

The small Republican bloc which opposed the sales tax, the mercantile tax may be just as unpalatable as the sales levy which the consumer would pay as he makes his purchases.

Police May Clock 2 Cars At Same Time

Harrisburg, (AP)—A state policeman can legally clock more than one speeding car at the same time under a court decision handed down yesterday.

Judge Homer L. Kreider of Dauphin County Court sustained speed convictions and fines against two men arrested by a state policeman who trailed both at the same time.

The court held that a policeman could easily and legally clock both the cars of Howard Coldsmith and Harry Pheil Jr. with an unobstructed daylight view. Both drivers live at Waynesboro RD 2.

Both men denied the charge that they were traveling 65 miles an hour when halted on Rt. 22 near here last October. The police car checked their speed while traveling behind both of them.

A tun is a wine cask holding about 250 gallons.

Need For Blood Donations Unchanged Despite Use Of Dextran Instead Of Plasma

Washington, (AP)—Red Cross and Defense Department officials said yesterday the need for public blood donations will be "just as great as ever" despite use by the armed forces of dextran, a sugar substance, instead of blood plasma, in treating sick and wounded who do not require other transfusion support.

Dextran, derivable from cane sugar, molasses or beet juice, will be used for cases that do not require long-continued "nutritional" support. For these latter cases, another plasma substitute—a blood derivative called "serum albumin"—will be used.

Also, extremely serious cases in which there has been great loss of blood will continue to be treated with "whole blood" for which officials say "there is no substitute."

This advice came as the Navy and the Air Force matched a previous disclosure by an Army medical source that the Army at least would henceforth fill all orders from continental and overseas hospitals with dextran instead of plasma. The Army man said dextran is free of the hazard of causing "serum jaundice" which plasma can sometimes cause when given repeatedly.

The Red Cross and Defense Department medical officials pointed out that despite the new action, whole blood, which has always been used in quantities three times as great as blood plasma by the armed forces, would continue to be required in the same amounts as heretofore.

And they said that while it is true that dextran can now be used as a substitute for plasma—thereby reducing requirements for plasma for transfusion purposes—every pint of plasma which can be produced will be needed for these other purposes.

One—Stockpiling by the federal Civil Defense Administration which already has indicated it will require 600,000 units of dried plasma for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Two—Stockpiling by the armed forces for possible future needs.

Three—Preparation of medically important "blood derivatives" such as gamma globulin for the fight against paralytic polio and other uses, and "serum albumin."

The latter substance can be used, as can plasma and the sugar-substance dextran, in the treatment of "shock," caused by reduced blood volume. And "serum albumin," like dextran, is free of any hazard of "serum jaundice."

Serum albumin has certain advantages over dextran for certain types of cases, and efforts are being made to increase its supply. But it is rather expensive to prepare and, moreover, it requires about four pints of blood to produce a pint of serum albumin, compared to 2 1/2 pints of blood to produce a unit of plasma.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY

Harry Schaeffer, lanky southpaw who began his professional baseball pitching career with the Stroudsburg Poconos, and also graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, has won three and lost one game thus far for Kansas City, of the American Association. Harry's latest win was a 5-1 verdict over Toledo. Schaeffer had a no-hitter going entering the eighth round, but the Shilling-ton, Pa. resident was touched for four hits and one run in the last two frames. Harry registered eight strikeouts and three walks against the Toledo club.

Schaeffer has now appeared in six games for Kansas City, working in 32 innings and striking out 19 batters for a .750 pitching percentage. Ray Steele, former East Stroudsburg High school basketball star and baseball short, worked two scoreless innings for Williamsport in an Eastern League game against Binghamton on Monday night. Ray pitched the seventh and eighth innings without giving up a hit. The big right hander walked one batter and hit another with a pitched ball, as Binghamton won by a 6-5 count. Steele wasn't charged with the loss.

Syracuse recently inflicted a 9-1 defeat on Rochester, International League. George Condrick, a winter resident of Tannersville, and former pitcher with the now defunct Stroudsburg Poconos, was the losing pitcher. George now has a record of one victory and a single setback. Alex McNeelance, former hurler with Nazareth, North Atlantic League, is now on the mound staff of the Buffalo Bisons, of the International League. Leonard "Chips" Wile, former member of the Berwick mound corps, NAL, recently stopped Savannah on two hits in 14 innings, as Columbus turned in a 3-2 South Atlantic League victory.

Marty Garlock, right handed hurler who began his pro career in baseball with Peoria, of the North Atlantic League, lost a 2-0 decision to Columbia, also of the Sally League, after his Augusta mates had helped him to a 1-0 verdict over the same club earlier in the campaign. Ronnie Kump, right handed hurler with Lebanon, NAL, in 1950, recently lost his first game when Columbus bowed to Jacksonville, 5-0, in a Sally League battle. Kump has now won four and lost one outing.

Dick Forster, head basketball and assistant football mentor at East Stroudsburg High school, is now a patient at the Monroe County General Hospital. Dick is fighting off a case of sugar diabetes. Harry Warner is hitting .333 for Jacksonville, of the South Atlantic League. Although the lanky first sacker is only seeing limited duty, he has played a major role in the club's climb to first place with a record of 21 wins and six setbacks. Harry is a former star athlete at Pocono High and first sacker for the Stroudsburg Poconos. Warner is an off-season resident of Reeders.

Yesterday's 8-2 victory for Chestnut Hill over Pocono High narrowed the Monroe County League baseball flag race down to a three-team battle. Chestnut Hill, Tobyhanna Township and Polk are now featuring identical records of three wins and one setback. It is quite possible that the pennant dash, which comes to an end on Friday, may wind up in a two-way deadlock. The big game on Friday will send Chestnut Hill against Polk, on the former's home field. Bill Sommers, sophomore right hander for East Stroudsburg, gave his second outstanding pitching demonstration of the season yesterday.

Bill retired 16 Fountain Hill batters on strikes and allowed one single, as the Cavaliers rolled to their third win in seven Lehigh-Northampton League games by a 15-1 count. Coach Jack Kist made two changes in his starting lineup yesterday and the Cavaliers jumped out in front in the first inning and held a commanding advantage for the remainder of the distance. Dick Merring's fifth inning homer, with two mates aboard, was a real circuit blow. It may very easily be the longest ball Merring has ever hit in a regulation contest.

Many visitors have been dropping in at the Stroudsburg Speedway in recent days, proving that there is a real interest in the opening night program on Saturday. Ray Fleming, one of the top stock car chauffeurs in the east, has visited the local half-mile dirt oval several times in the past two weeks. The Stroudsburg Speedway management plans improvements each week during the coming season and not just those that will be noted on Saturday. Lights have been installed for the opening five-event card and right now the crew of workmen are preparing the actual racing surface for the first grand.

At least one professional wrestling promoter is still showing a keen interest in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg area. Don't forget the All-Sports Banquet at the Penn-Stroud Hotel today, at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are still available at Stroudsburg High and from any graduate or faculty member of that school. Pete Carlesimo, assistant athletic director at the University of Scranton, will be the featured speaker.

East Stroudsburg High Crushes Fountain Hill, 15-1

Sommers Turns In Brilliant One-Hit Job

Bill Sommers, sophomore right hander, pitched East Stroudsburg High school to a convincing 15-1 victory over Fountain Hill at East Stroudsburg Playground yesterday, as the visiting nine was stopped cold with one hit.

Sommers was in complete control of the game from start to finish, as he held Fountain Hill scoreless until the fifth, when a high throw to the plate on an infield roller enabled the visiting squad to avert a shutout.

Fountain Hill saw 16 of its batters go down on strikes during the course of the game, while Sommers allowed only four free tickets to first base.

The only hit off the sophomore hurler was a third inning single by John Boyle, Fountain Hill first sacker.

Circuit Blow
East Stroudsburg's big blow was a towering home run into deepest left field by Dick Merring in the fifth frame, with two mates on the base paths. The Cavaliers went on to score six runs in the fifth and three in the sixth, after pushing across three tallies in each of the first two frames.

Bob Kupiszewski, playing his first game of the season in right field, led the East Stroudsburg offense with three hits in four trips to the plate. Harold White, Gene Plaza and Bill Sommers each accounted for two safeties.

East Stroudsburg brings its season to a close on Friday, when the Cavaliers play at Wilson Borough. The game gets underway at 4 p.m.

Local Field To Face Boros

New York — National Golf Day this Saturday, May 23, will draw at least 60 golfers from the Stroudsburg, Pa. area, a survey of estimates by golf pros indicated yesterday.

On National Golf Day, Julius Boros, the United States Open champion, will shoot a scratch round at the Oakmont Country Club in Pittsburgh while golfers in this area and throughout the country try to better his score, using their local or Callaway handicaps.

Entry Fee
Entry fee is one dollar for the event sponsored jointly by the Professional Golfers Association and Life Magazine for the benefit of the U. S. O. and the National Golf Fund, Inc. Every penny of entry money goes to worthy causes.

Last year over $80,000 was raised as America's golfers attempted to defeat Ben Hogan, the then U. S. Open champion, on National Golf Day. Winners received an "I Beat Ben Hogan" medal. Victors this season will get a magnificent "I Beat Julius Boros" award.

Cardinals Shade Pittsburgh, 2-1

St. Louis, (AP) — Stan Musial's double in the seventh inning drove in the second of two unearned runs and enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to defeat Johnny Lindell and the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1, last night.

Tough Luck
Lindell, a four-hit winner over the Redbirds earlier this season, gave up only five hits and struck out eight this time but a couple of errors by Pirate second baseman Danny O'Connell forced Lindell to accept his fourth setback.

Jerry Staley won his fifth game for the Cards.

Cincinnati, (AP) — Right-hander Robin Roberts chalked up his sixth victory for the Philadelphia Phillies last night as he stopped the last-place Cincinnati Redlegs cold on five hits for a 6-3 triumph. Homers were hit by Ted Kuszewski and Willard Marshall of Cincinnati and by Richie Ashburn and Willie Jones of the Phils.

GOING HOME—Bill Sommers, winning pitcher for East Stroudsburg High yesterday, is pictured rounding third on the way to the plate with the second of three runs that scored on Dick Merring's long home run into left field in the fifth inning yesterday. Dick Hubbit is the Fountain Hill third baseman. East Stroudsburg went on to win, 15-1. (Daily Record Photo)

Chestnut Hill High Rallies To Take Measure Of Pocono

Brooksideville—Chestnut Hill High moved into a three-way tie for first place in the Monroe County League yesterday, when the charges of Coach Otto "Junior" Mills battled to an 8-2 victory over Pocono High, here on the winning combination's home field.

The two clubs were locked in a torrid battle through the first four innings, at which time the count was deadlocked at 2-2.

Chestnut Hill broke the tie with two runs in the fifth and then made certain of victory by pushing four more runs into paydirt in the home half of the sixth.

Pocono reached Bob Burkett for two runs in the first frame, only to have the Chestnut Hill bats account for a single run in the second and the tying marker in the third.

Larry Butz opened on the hill for Pocono and was relieved by Bob Hallet in the fifth. Bob Burkett worked the entire distance for Chestnut Hill, limiting Pocono to three hits, one of which was a double by Hallet.

Five Pocono errors also aided the Chestnut Hill cause.

Pocono returns to action today, when the pupils of Coach Harry Werksheiser play host to Coolbaugh, on the Pocono High field in Tannersville. The game is listed for 2 p. m.

Greene-Dreher Falls Before Hawley, 5-2

Newfoundland—Two big innings enabled Hawley High to score a 5-2 decision over Greene-Dreher-Sterling High in baseball here yesterday. Two runs in the fourth and three in the fifth broke the game wide open.

Greene-Dreher, behind the shut-out pitching of Tom Klepadlo, had constructed a 2-0 advantage going into the fourth inning, only to have the visiting contingent pile up its winning margin in the fourth and fifth.

The Stags of Greene-Dreher broke the scoring famine with a single run in the second inning, then came back with one more tally in the home half of the third round.

All five of the Hawley runs were classed as unearned, as the visiting contingent took advantage of eight Greene-Dreher errors to offset the six-hit pitching of Klepadlo.

Greene-Dreher plays its host to Lake Township on Friday, here on the same field on which yesterday's game was played.

EMERGENCE OF THE MARCH BROWN FLY

DUN FLY
PSEUDO NYMPH
NYMPH
WET FLY

As a nymph, the "march brown" clings under rocks, etc. in riffles of a stream. Some are dislodged by tumbling waters. In early spring when pseudo nymphs should be drifted in stream-bed's currents. Normal emergence is from mid-May to mid-June as waters warm about noon and later. Nymph leaves its hiding place and, drifting helplessly, kicks to rise, just below the surface of quiet side-waters or pool below riffles. It begins to kick out of its back, splitting back to emerge on the surface. A dun, imitate a drift with nymph or wet fly. Use dry fly for hatched dun.

A's Decision Chisox, 2-1

Philadelphia, Pa.—Harry Byrd, the American League's "ookie of the Year" in 1952, pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to a 2-1 triumph over the red hot Chicago White Sox last night. Joe DeMaestri accounted for half of the A's runs with a home run in the first inning.

The only two safeties off Byrd were singles by Jim Rivera in the third and Rocco Krasnich in the fourth. Rivera's blow knocked in the Sox' lone tally.

Both Philadelphia runs were scored in the first. Following DeMaestri's homer, Loren Babe singled to center. After Eddie Robinson grounded out, Dave Philley walked and Gus Zernial batted a grounder to load the bags. Pete Suder flied to Rivera, sending Babe home after the catch. Entry List Falls Short

New York, Pa.—The entry list for the 77th annual Intercollegiate AAAA Track and Field Meet fell a little short of the record totals yesterday as 540 colleges nominated 544 athletes for the games at Triborough Stadium May 29-30. The bulk of the entries, as usual, came from the east.

Missing Cage Star Found In Utah

Green River, Wyo., Pa.—Don Logran, missing Philadelphia professional basketball player, is under private psychiatric treatment in Wyoming.

Logran's father-in-law, Dr. R. J. Stapleton of Green River, told The Associated Press yesterday that Logran is a private patient of Dr. J. F. Whalen, superintendent of the Wyoming State Hospital at Evanston, Wyo. He is receiving treatment for psychiatric adjustment.

Logran has been the object of a nation-wide hunt since he disappeared from his home at Wayne, Pa., on April 30.

Dr. Stapleton said Logran was found wandering the streets in Salt Lake City last Saturday, and that psychiatrists and psychologists had been examining the basketball player since then.

Dr. Stapleton said his son-in-law had suffered a serious nervous breakdown.

Mrs. Logran has been at her parent's home in Green River since early this month.

Giants Sink Cubs In Tenth, 6-4

Chicago, (AP)—The surging New York Giants won their third straight game yesterday, exploding for a 6-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Don Mueller started the sixth place's winning spurt against Warren Hacker, with a pinch double. He swung for catcher Sam Calderone, a .571 batsman, in the first overtime inning.

Pitcher Al Corwin, who was the Giants' winning pitcher for the second straight game, beat out a hit, Davey Williams, who teamed with Monte Irvin to bat in three runs apiece, singled to score Mueller.

Eases Full

After "Hank" Thompson was purposely passed to fill the bases, Irvin unloaded a two-run single to kayo Hacker in a run of south-paw Bob Seavitz. Schultz promptly put out the fire, but not in time to save the Cubs.

Randy Jackson opened the home half with his second homer, a drive into the leftfield seats.

Red Sox Gain Verdict Over Browns, 4-3

Boston, (AP)—The back-to-back combination of Tom Umpflett's second two-bagger of the game and Milt Bolling's third pitcher, Satchel Paige in the eighth inning, today gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Lee "Skinny" Brown gave St. Louis all of its runs and hits and among its six safeties were homers by Johnny Groth and Don Lendhardt. The latter tied the count at 3-all. As a precautionary measure, Manager Lou Boudreau called upon Ellis Kinder to hurl the ninth and that veteran retired the side in order.

Open Scoring

The Browns opened the scoring in the third when Groth blasted his first four-bagger of the season into the left field net. Singles by Vic Weritz, Lendhardt and a walk to Bob Elliott loaded the bases with one out in the fourth and a run was produced on Clint Courtney's fly.

Boston's Gene Stephens singled to center in the third inning, stole second and continued on to third when Bob Young let backstop Courtney's throw go into center-field. Dick Gernert then singled in the first Boston marker.

Gernert hit his seventh 1953 homer with two out in the fifth inning and the Red Sox gained a 3-2 lead in the sixth. With two out, Bolling struck his second single and Brown doubled off the left-center wall.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to Section 2 of the Act of June 29, 1947, P. L. 115, the amendments and supplements, that the School District of Middle Smithfield Township, Monroe County, Pennsylvania, wishes to adopt a Resolution levying a $100.00 per capita tax for School purposes, to be levied on the 1st day of June, 1953, at Nine P. M. a clock, Daylight Saving Time, at Middle Smithfield Township. The reason why in the judgment of the Board of Directors of the School District of Middle Smithfield Township, necessitates the tax is that the present revenues of the School District are not sufficient to pay salary increases of the teaching staff, to pay the cost of repairs and maintenance of equipment, furniture and buildings, to pay the cost of transportation and to pay a portion of the rental obligation of said School District. The amount of revenue estimated to be derived from this tax is the sum of Five Thousand Dollars.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

CLARENCE McWILLIAMS, President
T. R. COURTRIGHT, Secretary

School District of Middle Smithfield Township.
